

San Francisco Board of Education
Parent Advisory Council

PAC Members 2009 - 2010

Carolyn Alexander is the guardian of her granddaughter, who attends high school at the International Studies Academy. She lives in the Western Addition and is a long-time advocate for families with children in Special Education, as well as a recognized community leader.

Ruth Barajas is in her second term on the PAC. She is the Vice-Chair for 2009-2010, and served as the PAC's Secretary from 2007-2009. She has two sons at Harvey Milk Civil Rights Academy and lives in the Excelsior. She works in youth development, and has worked with Support for Families of Children with Disabilities.

Tiana Blunt has a son in middle school at the International Studies Academy and a daughter at June Jordan High School. She lives in Visitacion Valley, is an active volunteer and a member of the School Site Council at June Jordan.

Georgia Bratt Williams has a daughter and a son at Clarendon Elementary School and a new baby, and lives in Glen Park. She was on the Buena Vista Elementary School PTA Board and has participated on the Indian Education Advisory Council and the San Francisco Health Plan advisory committee. She speaks English and Spanish.

Un Un Che is in her second term on the PAC. She has two children at John Yehall Chin Elementary School, and lives in China Basin. She is on the SSC at her children's school, and serves on the Board at Wu Yee Children's Services. Her primary language is Cantonese.

Rochelle Fort has a son at Harvey Milk Civil Rights Academy and a daughter at Gateway High School. She lives in Hunter's Point and has been an active volunteer at Carver ES, Harvey Milk, and James Lick Middle School.

Nancy Gapsin Gness has a daughter and a son at LR Flynn Elementary School and lives in the Mission. She has been a middle school and high school teacher, is a community educator at City College of San Francisco, and has served on School Site Councils as both a teacher and a parent.

Beatriz Gudino has a daughter at Marshall Elementary School, a son at Balboa High School, and a son in college. She is actively involved in her children's education, lives in the Mission District, and speaks English and Spanish.

Diane Huang has two daughters at Ulloa Elementary School, and lives in the Sunset. She volunteers at the school and is active with Parents for Public Schools. Her primary language is Mandarin.

Amanda Johnson has a daughter at Buena Vista Elementary School, and lives in Bernal Heights. She is an officer on the school's PTA, and has worked on education policy in the SFUSD.

Stelly Kuo has a daughter at Clarendon Elementary School. She lives in Miraloma Park and has been an active volunteer with the Potrero Hill Head Start and the Community Advisory Committee for Special Education. She speaks English and Mandarin.

Natasha LaVine has a son and daughter at Yick Wo Elementary School, and lives in Bernal Heights. She is an active volunteer and on the SSC at Yick Wo, and works on national programs for involving parents in their children's education.

Quran Mays, Sr. has sons at Longfellow Elementary School and Hoover Middle School. He lives in Visitacion Valley, has been an active volunteer at his children's schools, and was nominated as "Volunteer of the Year" for 2008-09 by San Francisco School Volunteers.

Michelle Menegaz is in her second term on the PAC. She is the PAC's Chair for 2009-2010, and also served as PAC Chair in 2008-2009. She has two daughters at Grattan Elementary School, and lives in the Richmond District. She is an active volunteer and a member of the SSC at her children's school.